

Tutuila, American Samoa

The island is small – only 19 miles long – but there are scenes of beauty everywhere you look.

Even a drive to the store includes interesting sights.

A roadside kiosk

A drive into town brings more sights to share.

Open fale along Utelei Beach

The local market

Ladies at the market working on crafts to sell

Pago Harbor

Leone Church of Christ

The Randy English family – our wonderful hosts while on the island. They have lived & worked here for 22 years.

The Rocco Pierce family – they live next door to the Englishs so it was marvelous to get to know them.

Setting up to record each night's lesson for broadcast on the radio during morning rush hour the next day

The gospel meeting ran for 5 nights with Jimmie and Ron alternating lessons.

Besides preaching and recording additional lessons for radio broadcast, Ron and Jimmie also helped with the construction of the new radio studio.

Carolyn & Linda spoke at Leone's Ladies Day

Preparing for the tonai after morning worship

According to Samoan custom, the ladies presented gifts to us on our last night.

Jimmie never did get used to wearing a lavalava (the traditional skirt) even during the 5 years he lived there.

Saying "Tofa soifua" is always the hardest part of any campaign, whether you've known the friends for 20+ years . . .

. . . or just met them this week.